THREE NEW QUEENS CROWNED AT THE MS. INTERNATIONAL AND INTERNATIONAL BEAUTY PAGEANTS

By Susan Irvine

This year's Ms. International and International Beauty Pageants concluded with a spectacular ceremony at the Talent Factor in Chino Hills, California. The pageant was produced by Andrea and Curtis Roberts and the emcee was Scott Stewart.

Amidst a dazzling display of talent and elegance, three exceptional women were crowned, each representing the pinnacle of achievement in their respective categories.

Lisa "Clutch" Tauai Takes Ms. International® 2023-24

Leading the triumphant trio, Lisa "Clutch" Tauai, from Las Vegas, Nevada, was crowned Ms. International® 2023-24. Tauai, a decorated military officer, retired from the United States Air Force in 2017 as a Lieutenant Colonel and Squadron Commander. Throughout her over 20-year career, she specialized as a Registered Dietitian, earning over 40 military awards for her service. Since retirement, Tauai has continued her influential work at Nellis Air Force Base, educating over 15,000 servicemembers on nutrition to enhance their performance. Her commitment extends beyond the military; she is a co-author of a research article and book, runs a dedicated nutrition awareness website, and frequently shares her expertise on News 3 Las Vegas and various podcasts.

Gracelynn Rider, A Versatile Talent, Wins Teen International Beauty 2023-24

In the teen division, Gracelynn Rider emerged victorious as Teen International Beauty 2023-24. Rider, known for her versatility, excels as an actress, a black belt in MMA, and a varsity golfer. Her commitment to community and leadership is evident through her advisory role in her family's charitable foundation. Academically accomplished, Rider graduated high school early and authored a cookbook. She looks forward to pursuing her higher education at Arizona State University and dreams of making her mark in the entertainment industry as a producer and director.

Jenny Tran Crowned Miss International Beauty 2023-24

Representing Northern California, Jenny Tran was crowned Miss International Beauty 2023-24. Tran's professional journey as a research scientist in pharmaceutical sciences has led to groundbreaking work in Alzheimer's research and organ transplant diagnostics. Her achievements have not only advanced medical science but also paved the way for future generations of women in STEM fields. Tran holds a master's degree and is a published scientist, dedicated to mentoring young women aspiring to enter the scientific community.

A Competitive Journey to the Crown

The journey to the crown was not an easy one, with over 30 contestants applying through a rigorous selection process that included an application review, a photo submission, and an interview over the phone. The competition culminated in a stage event where 15 finalists from across the country showcased their talents and were evaluated in four major categories: Judges Personal Interview, Fun Fashion and Introduction, Evening Gown, and On-Stage Question, each accounting for 25% of their total score.

Scholarships and Opportunities

All competitors in the pageant received a $2,100 scholarship for unlimited classes over six months at the Talent Factory Dance Studio. Winners in each category were further rewarded with a $4,200 scholarship for a year of unlimited classes, empowering them to continue developing their skills and talents. BOWERS MUSEUM ACQUIRES STUNNING NDWANGO BY UBUHLE WOMEN

The Bowers Museum is thrilled to announce the acquisition of a remarkable new ndwango (beaded artwork) by South African artist Zondlile Zondo. The piece, titled Dressed for the Dance, is a vibrant celebration of cultural heritage and female empowerment, highlighting the artistic excellence of the Ubuhle Women, a community of Xhosa and Zulu women artists living and working together in KwaZulu-Natal, South Africa.

About the Artwork:

- Artist: Zondlile Zondo
- Title: Dressed for the Dance
- Year: 2023
- Location: KwaZulu-Natal Province, South Africa
- Medium: Glass beads sewn onto fabric
- Acquisition: Bowers Museum

Purchase made possible by generous contributions from the Bead Society of Orange County, Bowers Museum Collectors Council, Janis Agopian, and the Marion & John Scott Trust Cattle hold deep cultural significance for the peoples of eastern South Africa and frequently feature in the ndwangos created by the Ubuhle Women. Dressed for the Dance draws inspiration from the matric dance, a celebratory event preceding the graduation of South African girls from high school. Despite its large horns suggesting it might be a bull, the depicted Ankole is female. According to Zondlile Zondo, the artwork captures the joy and excitement of graduation and symbolizes the strength of a young girl poised to find her place in the world.

About Ubuhle Women:

The Bowers Museum previously showcased the extraordinary talent of the Ubuhle Women in the exhibition Ubuhle Women: Beadwork and the Art of Independence, which ran from July 1, 2023, to August 27, 2023. The exhibition featured a new form of bead art called ndwango, developed by a community of women in rural KwaZulu-Natal, South Africa. The six artists featured in the exhibition create their beadwork on black fabric reminiscent of the Xhosa headscarves and skirts from their childhoods. By stretching the textile like a canvas, the artists transform the flat cloth into contemporary artworks adorned with Czech glass beads.

The ndwangos, meaning "cloth" or "rag" in Xhosa, are created using skills passed down through generations. Each piece is crafted in a unique style that the artists describe as coming "directly from the soul." The artworks feature both abstract and figurative subjects, with a single panel taking more than 10 months to complete. Ubuhle, meaning "beauty" in the Xhosa and Zulu languages, refers to the shimmering quality of light on glass beads, which holds particular spiritual significance for the Xhosa people. The meticulous skill and scale of ambition involved in creating each panel become evident as each tiny bead catches the light.

Exhibition and Viewing:

Dressed for the Dance is now a permanent part of the Bowers Museum's collection. This stunning piece is on view just outside the Norma Kershaw Auditorium in the Dorothy and

Donald Kennedy Wing, allowing visitors to appreciate its cultural significance and artistic mastery on an ongoing basis.

About Bowers Museum:

Located in the historic heart of Orange County, Bowers Museum's 9 permanent collection exhibitions showcase art and artifacts from cultures around the world. As the largest and one of the oldest museums in Orange County, Bowers has been voted 'Best Museum' in Orange County for the past 30 years (as of 2023). Now on view, the featured exhibition Asian Comics: Evolution of an Art Form closes September 8. Learn more at bowers.org.

WHAT YOU (AND YOUR CHILD) SHOULD KNOW FOR KINDERGARTEN AND BEYOND

Starting kindergarten is a major milestone, one that sets the stage for future learning. Ensuring children are well-equipped to enter kindergarten sets them up for a successful school year in the short term and academic career in the long term.

Kindergarten readiness encompasses a wide range of skills, including academic, social and physical abilities. Yet while many parents think of kindergarten as the formal start of their children's learning, 90% of children's brain development occurs during the first five years of life.

The brain is incredibly receptive during these formative years, making it a critical time for children to receive exposure and guidance in diverse areas. Enrolling them in a quality preschool or pre-K program is one way you can ensure they're creating building blocks for the future, but there are also steps you can take at home.

Try implementing these simple habits, recommended by Primrose Schools Chief Early Learning Officer Dr. Amy Jackson, into your family's day-to-day routine:

Read to your children daily to build early literacy skills. This is a good habit to begin as early as infancy because it promotes language development, literacy and understanding of others. Make library trips and story times a special treat for toddlers and encourage preschoolers to read to you by describing what is happening in the pictures or making up their own stories. Keep books in the car so you have a fun way to pass the time on long trips or while waiting for appointments.

Schedule playdates for social development. Once babies are able to sit independently, they'll likely enjoy playdates. At this age, playdates should be closely monitored since babies explore with their hands and mouths. At ages 1 and 2, young children tend to engage in parallel play rather than interacting, but organizing small groups of toddlers can continue to promote social development. Older toddlers enjoy more interactive play and begin to learn concepts like sharing.

Practice counting objects to 10 or more together. It's easy to make "math talk" part of your everyday experience in other ways, too. When reading a story, ask children to count the objects on each page. When eating, encourage math connections by having children count the items on their plates. Children can also explore math through common toys and games, like shape sorters, knob puzzles and nesting cups for infants and toddlers; and large puzzles, sand or water tables and card games for preschoolers.

Encourage physical activities like playing on the playground. Play isn't just for entertainment; it's a building block for healthy growth. It helps children learn from the world around them and develop traits like generosity and honesty. Because it helps children release their full range of emotions and has therapeutic benefits, play also has positive effects on mental health. In addition to supporting their social-emotional well-being, children learn to navigate the world and practice motor skills while at play.

Establish routines at home. A structured school day is filled with routines that provide familiarity and comfort. Routines can serve similar benefits at home by helping children clearly understand what is expected of them and when. A morning routine makes it easy to check the boxes as you prepare for the day and work to get out the door on time. An evening routine helps everyone settle down and prepare for a good night's sleep.

Encourage self-regulation and social skills. Self-regulation is the ability to understand and manage your own behavior and reactions, often displayed during actions like taking turns, transitioning from one activity to another or cleaning up for dinner. Social skills include interaction and communication abilities like speech, body language and facial expressions, as well as the ability to play with others and make friends. As a parent, you can model these skills and play games that involve taking turns and cooperation. Playdates also help facilitate positive social experiences for children.

ICONIC MALIBU HOME LISTED AT $7.25 MILLION

Nestled in the heart of one of the world's most coveted coastal communities, one of Malibu's longtime iconic homes is for sale at $7.25 million. Overlooking Carbon Mesa and the Pacific Ocean with postcard views of the ocean, Catalina and the Channel Islands, the modernist home is set on over 12 acres with a private mountain setting, not often found in Malibu.

Used as a primary film location in Paul Schrader's The Canyons starring Lindsay Lohan and seen on the cover of Vogue, the four-bedroom, four-bath home was designed by Vitus Mataré and inspired by the works of Le Corbusier and Mies van der Rohe with its timeless minimalist finishes. Built in 1978, before Malibu became the world-class enclave it is today, the home has been completely updated and looks showroom new. The property consists of four structures, including the 3,092-square-foot main house with a garage, pool house, detached carport, and a separate studio workspace. Upon entering the home, a multi-level atrium with vaulted-wood ceilings brings in ocean breezes throughout the home. Situated adjacent to the main residence is a detached studio perfect as a private workspace, gym or music studio with the added benefit of the inspiring ocean view. Floor-to-ceiling windows frame the stunning vistas, flooding the space with natural light and creating a seamless indoor-outdoor living experience. The open-concept floor plan includes a grand living area, a gourmet kitchen, and a formal dining room, each thoughtfully designed to enhance the home's modern ambiance. There is plenty of parking with its two-car garage and workshop area, a three-car carport, a motorcourt that can accommodate seven vehicles, and a long, lushly landscaped driveway. The sale also includes a neighboring lot with almost 8 acres and access rights, providing access to PCH in just under 5 minutes.

For those who love to entertain, the property offers multiple outdoor spaces, including a built-in barbecue and a covered dining area, perfect for hosting gatherings against the backdrop of Malibu's stunning scenery. The meticulously landscaped gardens, including avocado, citrus, guava, and apricot trees, add to the home's allure, creating a serene environment for relaxation and enjoyment.

Known for its pristine beaches, renowned schools, upscale dining, and vibrant cultural scene, Malibu celebrity residents include Lady Gaga, Jack Nicholson, Paris Hilton and Jonah Hill. In addition to the fabulous beaches, things to do include a day at The Getty Villa, the Malibu Pier, shopping at the Malibu Country Mart, and lunch at Nobu Malibu or The Old Place.

The home is listed with Russell Grether and Tony Mark from the Mark & Grether Group, Compass. Describing the home, Tony said, "It's extremely rare to find this level of privacy and acreage with ocean views that is still close to the Pacific Coast Highway. The property functions as a compound, offering countless spaces perfect for both unwinding and entertaining. The pool alone has to be one of Malibu's best."

And from Russell, "The setting of this home is incredibly unique, situated on its own promontory. The private road access makes all of Malibu easily accessible while having true panoramic views of the ocean and surrounding untouched mountains."

Taste of Wine & Food

By Frank Mangio & Rico Cassoni

CALIFORNIA WINE FESTIVAL RETURNED TO CARLSBAD'S PARK HYATT AVIARA RESORT

Story and photos by Rico Cassoni.

California Wine Festival, returned to Carlsbad's Park Hyatt Aviara Resort for two days of alfresco tasting events. Guests were able to try pours from esteemed winemaking regions across California, paired with gourmet appetizers from many North San Diego County's top restaurants. Day 1 kicked off with a Sunset Rare & Reserve Tasting, a special experience for wine enthusiasts that featured a sparkling wine reception that flowed into sampling hard-to-find reserve wines. Day 2, the wine tasting experience continued at Park Hyatt Aviara Resort's Heron Lawn. Attendees continued their wine education and exploration through intimate conversations and tastings with winery representatives hailing from California's world-famous wineries as well as culinary talent from the region's most lauded restaurants. Emily Kaufmann, Executive Director, California Wine Festival shared, "We founded this event in hopes that wine enthusiasts can engage with representatives from wineries that they already know and love, while also discovering new wines that they've never heard of."

Last year, we discovered Gus's World-Famous Fried Chicken and planned to make this our first stop at this year's show. Gus's is the best chicken I have ever had. The large pieces with a thin, hot and spicy batter fried in peanut oil is mouthwatering delicious. I dream of a Gus's opening in the San Diego area. Mynor Espinoza, Gus's Director of Marketing and Public Relations was not hopeful for a San Diego area opening in the near future, but said they have discussed the possibility of a San Diego location. On our way over to Gus's we saw Orfila Vineyard and Winery, Executive Chef, Luke Morganstern. Luke shared some of the changes at Orfila. They closed their Oceanside Tasting Room to join forces at Lake San Marcos's Brinkman's restaurant. Additionally, Orfila will be putting in a full kitchen at their main Escondido location. Amalfi Cucina which opened several sites in San Diego's North County, purchased Orfila's Oceanside location. We learned about the Orfila updates while enjoying their 2023 Sauvignon Blanc, 2023 Sangiovese Rose, and the 2020 Sangiovese.

It was a pleasure reconnecting with Hall Napa Valley's Lisa Covey, Director of Public Relations, especially after my visit to the winery earlier this summer when I met with Megan Gunderson, VP of Winemaking. Covey presented a standout lineup: the 2023 Napa Valley Sauvignon Blanc, 2018 Terra Secca Red Blend, and the star of their lineup, the 2019 Eighteen Seventy-Three. Named after the historic Bergfeld Vineyard in St. Helena, this wine dazzled with a floral nose, blueberry hints, and a palate of ripe dark fruit and smooth tannins—a true testament to Hall's winemaking prowess.

Next, we ventured to the Booker Wines booth, where Brand Ambassador Carson O'Connor poured some Paso Robles' winners. The Harvey & Harriet wines, dedicated to owner Eric Jensen's parents, are accessible, quality wines that won't break the bank. The 2021 Chardonnay and 2020 Red Blend exemplified this philosophy, offering excellent value. For those seeking a more indulgent experience, the 2019 Fracture Syrah, aged 18 months in new French oak, impressed with its dark, opaque color and complex palate of black cherry, blackberry, clove, and coffee—a perfect match for hearty beef or pork dishes.

The journey continued at Hope Family Wines, where Brand Ambassador CJ Gormley and wine educator Maddi Teague showcased a crisp 2022 Chardonnay, a 2023 Cellar Select Rosé, and a 2022 Malbec with a hint of black tea. Their flagship 2021 Austin Hope Cabernet Sauvignon did not disappoint, rounding out a strong showing from this Paso Robles favorite.

In between tastings, a visit to Scott Condon's Inferno Wood Fired Pizza was a must. Their light, airy crust—thanks to a 48-hour fermentation—was the perfect base for Bianco DiNapoli tomatoes and locally sourced ingredients. If you're in need of catering for a special event, Inferno delivers with style.

At the Adobe Road booth, Callum Clarke, Western Regional Sales Director, impressed with a robust lineup that included a Chardonnay and Pinot Noir sourced from Petaluma Gap, specifically Sangiaco Vineyard's Roberts Road vineyard. However, the highlight was the 2018 Cabernet Sauvignon from Napa Valley's Beckstoffer Georges III vineyard. With a nose of plum and cigar notes, and a palate bursting with dark fruit, spice, and firm tannins, this wine earned 94-point ratings from both Wine Spectator and Robert Parker. It was my top pick of the event.

Finally, we visited Lloyd Cellars, where husband and wife team Rob and Bonnie Lloyd offered a taste of their expertise. Having experience as Rombauer's Assistant Winemaker, Associate Winemaker, and Winemaker spanning 2001 to 2008, I correctly guessed that the Lloyd and value priced Prescription Chardonnays were going to be good. The 2022 Lloyd Pinot Noir delivered classic cherry and cola flavors with a lingering finish, while the 2021

Prescription Cabernet Sauvignon, with its blackberry notes and soft tannins, proved to be a well-priced, solid everyday wine reminding me of the Harvey & Harriet brand.

Directory Advertising Hits the Jackpot for Small Business with a Limited Ad Budget $49.95

"I'm not a big business, but I know that you have to advertise someplace and these little ads don't cost too much so I figure if you expect to get any new customers, I gave the little 'directory' ads in the newspaper a try. Nothing happened for the first week, not even a phone call. Then Boom! comes three new customers. Paid for my little ads and a nice profit. I'd say I hit the jackpot. Sign me up for another week newspaper ladies!"

The above story may not be exciting but is typical of advertisers who are shopping for advertising that is affordable but gives them something back for their money. Here's another:

As a Woman Who Owns A Small Business These Newspaper Directory Ads are a Great Value

"We women have to work harder to make a small business grow. Thanks to small, affordable ads in this newspaper I've got ads running every week. Every call helps my business grow. I give you an A+ for good prices and steady results."

Looking for the Penny Saver in all the Wrong Places

"I Used to get pretty good results from the Penny Saver, but when the Penny Saver closed up, I found this newspaper's little directory ads are even cheaper and work just about as good. Usually get two or three calls a month and most of them wind up being my customers. My bookkeeper says your directory ads work pretty good for the money"

Newspaper Directory Ads Worked Just Fine, Cost Less than Half! Nice!

" We tried some slick magazine ads that had beautiful pictures on the cover and they worked real good for a while but they were costing us an arm and a leg so we tried these little directory ads in your newspaper .The ads are smaller, but cost way less than half of what we were paying the magazines and the newspaper directory ads seem to work about as well. We are glad we tried them. They are a pretty good deal for the low price."

New Business Owner Likes Lower Priced Ads

" I Just Started my New Business and Happy that I Can Afford Your Newspaper Directory Ads.I need to attract new customers and these ads are priced just right."

Print your ad copy in the box at right.

Please keep your ad to a maximum of 8 words per line. Up to 36 characters. Company name and phone number will be in bold letters.
